SLIME WORLD

An ooze-drenched solo adventure
by @van__ho

The sky drips.
Long strands of slime hang from the clouds, landing with wet splats on your slime tunnel.You wake. The walls pulse gently, coated in warm slime. Drips echo from the ceiling. It's drift-day — your first real glide beyond the hatch, past the safe pools. Something's changed. The slime feels thinner. Less alive. You slide toward the tunnel mouth.

The ooze stretches before you — rippling, bubbling, whispering. You feel a pull deep in your gut-slime. You begin to glide.
(Roll 1d4 till you reach end of page)

1. A glob of mudslime latches to your back.
It smells awful — but soaks damage like a champ. First time you take damage: ignore it. Then it falls off.
2. A bone shard floats by. You grab it. It's sharp, gross, and solid. Gain a d6 item: bone shard (1 use)
3. You slip through a tunnel ripple and get turned around. Lose 1 stamina, but you surface with a weird grin. +1 to your next roll
4. A trail of bubbles leads you to an old chunk of hardened ooze. It glows faintly.Gain +1 to a future strategy roll

Dry Patch
A creature twitches in the crust — half-buried, flaking like dried soup. Its goo-eyes hiss at you.
(Roll 1d4 till you reach end of page)

1. A brittle slab cracks — you fall through!
Roll d6:
- 4–6: You slime-punch free
- 1–3: Stuck. Take 4 damage

2. A twitching creature squirms loose as you dig.
It slurps away, dropping a pouch.
Gain item: gelmoss (restores 3 health).
3. A salt puff drifts from a crack — it burns!
Roll d6:
- 5–6: You scrape it off
- 1–4: Take 2 damage

4. You find a message scratched into a crusted stone: "DO NOT CLEAN THE OOZE."
It stirs something in you.
+1 to a future strategy roll

Clear Pools
The ooze here glows faint green — still and cold. No ripples. Just bubbles rising, slow and steady. (Roll 1d4 till you reach end of page)

1. You lean too close — something pulls you under!
Roll d6:
- 4–6: You burst free
- 1–3: Swallow glowing goo. Take 6 damage, but +1 to a future strategy roll

2. A bubble pops in your face.
You remember an old slime-song.
+1 to your next strategy roll
3. You find a pulsing ooze chunk.
Old Core Chunk (d8 item): A dense relic of ancient ooze-tech. Roll with this once instead of your usual strategy die. Then it melts.
4. The goo shifts under your feet, guiding you.
You feel a route through the pools open up.
Avoid damage from your next hazard

You approach the Spinners - tall, buzzing machines that whirl the ooze and spit out crust.(Roll 1d4 till you reach end of page)

1. You get too close. A vent blasts dry heat.
Roll d6:
- 4–6: You shield yourself in time
- 1–3: Take 4 damage

2. You peek inside a spinner core. It's packed with white crust. You recognize it now: pure salt dust
+1 to a future strategy roll
3. A squishy tech-goo bottle lies nearby.
You drink. It's spicy, electric, strange.
Until you take damage, gain +1 to all strategy rolls
4. A drone whirs over, scanning. It buzzes aggressively.
Roll d6:
- 5–6: You splash it with muck — it short-circuits
- 1–4: It zaps you. Take 6 damage

The Crack Dome
A crater of dried slime steams before you. At its center: a pit that coughs salt. Rusting Spinner husks litter the rim. One message is scraped into the dust: "WE DID THIS"
(Roll 1d4 till you reach end of page)

1. A twitching drone zaps at you!
Roll d6:
- 4–6: You yank its power core
  Gain d8 item: Power Cell
- 1–3: Take 4 damage

2. A melted plaque reads: "REVERSE"
You commit the word to memory.
+1 to a future strategy roll
3. The ground groans — a sinkhole opens!
Roll d6:
- 5–6: You leap clear
- 1–4: Take 2 damage

4. You place your hand to the dried slime.
You feel a pulse — deep, alive.
+1 to your next roll

It Rises
The Salt Core rises from the crack — jagged, humming, alive. The air goes dry. You feel your slime begin to flake.

Roll 1d6 to face the core's reaction
Add: +2 if you have the power cell
Add: +1 if you saw the word REVERSE

1–3 A shockwave hits. You fly back, slam into the crust. Lose 10 health
4–5: Salt dust fills the air. It clings to your skin, burning. Lose 3 stamina — but you find a weak point. +1 to your next roll.
6–7: You resist the pull. You see the core's inner glow. No damage. +1 to your next roll.
8+: You channel the ancient slime. The core shudders. No damage. Next roll: roll twice, pick the best.

Final Strike
The Salt Core pulses harder - humming with dry heat. You feel your slime tremble, close to collapse.

Roll 1d6 | Add:
- +1 if you found the weak point
- +1 if you're using the Old Core Chunk (discard it after)
- +1 if you yelled "REVERSE!" or something cooler

1–3 The core erupts. Salt crashes outward.
You're hit full-force. Lose 10 health
If you're still alive, you crawl free — barely.
The crust spreads.
4–5 You strike the heart. A flood of ooze blasts from the cracked Spinner. You're caught in it.
Lose 6 health — but the Salt Core is gone.
6–7 You hit the weak point. The shell shatters.
Slime floods the dome. You survive. The world softens again.
8+ You don't just strike — you sync. The core pulses with you. You speak ooze. The crust recedes. The balance returns. You become part of the world's new rhythm.

The End.Or don't. You'll know.
